

ART NOW

Gallery Guide®

NOVEMBER 1995

NEW YORK

Doug Safranek at Schmidt Bingham Gallery

Jacques Benoit

«Neons and Leisure» - Oil on canvas, 80" x 72"

from November 4th to November 29th, 1995

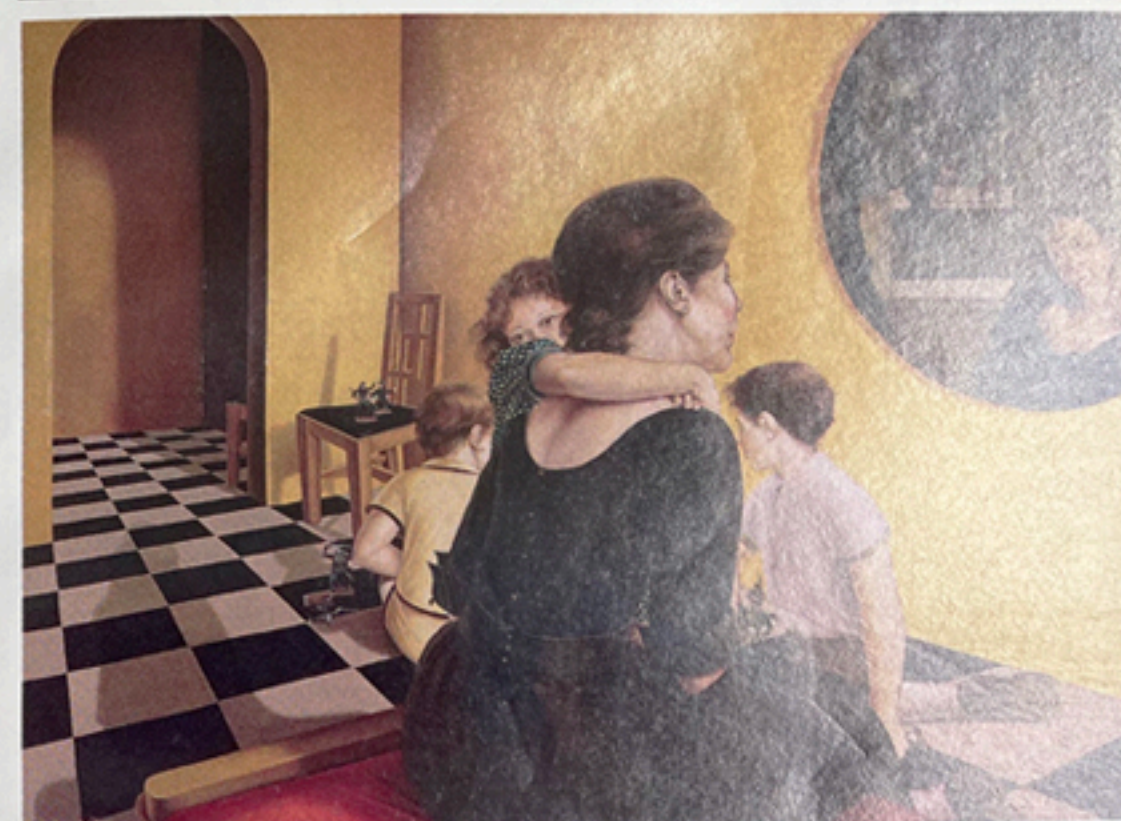

Reception: November 9th, 1995 - 6-8 pm

Agora Gallery

560 Broadway, Suite 502
New York, New York 10012
(between Prince & Spring)

Tel. 212/226-4151 Tues - Sat 12-6 pm

Downtown

Caldwell Snyder Galleries represent a diverse portfolio of contemporary artists. Artists exhibited include Parisian modern realist Thomas Pradzynski; Spain's foremost female sculptor Maria Luisa Campoy; contemporary fauvist Manel Anoro; mixed media painter Regina Saura; Russian "naive primitive" artist Yuri Gorbachev; and critically acclaimed figurative realist Claire Klarewicz-Okser.

Klarewicz-Okser's timeless, haunting characters spring from her imagination with a starkness and sparseness that is intentional. Like the Dutch masters, through psychological tension and mystery, she depicts relationships that are universal: mother-child, female friendships and the dynamics between man and woman.

The intense gaze of her characters, as depicted in Other Lives, suggests internal isolation of indeterminate origin. Klarewicz-Okser asks questions, but offers no answers. She relies on our experiences to speak to us, with her imagery as the catalyst that evokes emotion and memory.

During the month of November, Claire Klarewicz-Okser's paintings will be available at Caldwell Snyder Galleries in both New York and San Francisco.

In addition, November 15-30, 1995 renowned figurative artist Jürgen Görg will exhibit original paintings, drawings, lithographs and etchings at Caldwell Snyder in Soho, 451 West Broadway, between Prince and Houston. The gallery is open daily 11am - 7pm. For information regarding artist receptions, call (212) 387-0208.

(Other Lives, oil on linen, 49 x 63 inches, ©Caldwell Snyder 1995)